

What the Triangle A Has Done

The "Triangle A" has increased the dealer's trade by enabling him to give his patrons the greatest cigar values on earth.

The "Triangle A" has increased the value of the smoker's cigar money by giving him the highest possible quality in every grade of "Triangle A" cigars.

Everybody concerned reaps the benefit of the "Triangle A" idea—the dealer and you. BOTH. The dealer secures your confidence—and that's how he keeps your business.

Whenever and wherever you buy, whatever you pay for your cigars, you are entitled to the best it is possible to produce for the price.

The "Triangle A" on the box is the only assurance you have that you are getting this 100% of quality.

Don't Trust to Luck!

See that the cigar box is stamped with the "Triangle A" merit mark every time—you'll get a smoke worth double what you got before the introduction of "Triangle A" methods. Look for the mark that insures quality.

The New CREMO

is the most satisfactory kind of proof but you are safe in buying any brand bearing the "A" (Triangle A) on the box. Every box is extra-wrapped in glassine paper, sealed at each end with the "Triangle A" in red, to maintain perfect smoking condition and cleanliness until the box is opened.

A PEDIGREE FOUR-WHEELER. MEXICAN AMBASSADRESS RICH.

Carriage in Which Member of Washington's Cabinet Rode.

Boston.—The private carriage of Maj. Gen. Henry Knox, of Thomaston, who was first secretary of war under Washington, is in the possession of Frank B. Hills, first selectman of Thomaston, Me. Not only is it one of the most historic vehicles in the United States, but it is also probably the oldest able-bodied private carriage in existence on the continent.

In spite of its 125 years, a quaint, substantial vehicle it is. Gen. Knox probably had it made in Boston, for there were no carriage builders in Thomaston in those early days, and as Gen. Knox operated a packet line of small sailing vessels between Boston and Thomaston, it would have been easy for him to have the carriage brought to Thomaston. Many thousands of miles has this vehicle rolled since the day it left the maker's hands. Gen. Knox used it to drive over his vast estate in Maine, and when he died on Oct. 25, 1806, it went among the possessions of his estate which were sold. The father of Alden Gay, of Thomaston, bought the vehicle, and it remained in use with the Gay family until Mr. Hill purchased it.

It is by no means a relic in the sense of something that has become useless. The historic carriage is in good condition to this day, and Mr. Hill occasionally takes a ride in it. Not only does it run easily, but it is a decidedly comfortable carriage. To use an old expression, Gen. Knox's carriage was "built upon honor"—that is to say, the whole body and wheels and axles are of the best. The whiffletree is of iron, and there is a step on either shaft to enter the carriage, its upholstery is of the finest material, for in the old colonial days the carriages of the gentry were elaborate affairs. The dasher is covered with whole calfskin, it has a "boot," and is fitted with most of the conveniences which are used in the carriages of to-day.

Senora Creel Also an Accomplished Artist and Musician.

Washington.—One of the richest women in the world is Senora Angela Creel, wife of the new Mexican ambassador to Washington. Yet her receptions are marked by elegance and good taste, rather than a desire to parade. She is one of the least pretensions of the grande dames in the foreign corps.

Ordinarily she is gowned in simple texture, and her manner is very retiring. But on occasion she can put on the most costly garments and jewels ever seen at the capital.

Senora Creel is the daughter of Gen. Miguel Francisco de Terrafaj, governor of Chihuahua. He is a self-made man, having worked up from a laborer earning 20 cents a day. He now owns almost the whole of Chihuahua. "What he doesn't own his son-in-law, Senora Creel, does," the Mexicans say.

Senora Creel maintains at San Rosario, in the southern part of Chihuahua, one of the most magnificent establishments on this continent. The luxury of the Vanderbilt, Rockefeller or Gould estates is meager compared with it. On the Creel estate are two good-sized towns, almost three counties and vast mining and industrial plants. The retainers would make a good-sized army.

Senora Creel, who shares this vast wealth, is a linguist, musician and artist. She is adding in the literary and artistic developments of her country.

Salmon a Swift Swimmer.
The salmon is, for short distances, the swiftest swimmer of any fish. It can travel at a rate of 25 miles an hour.

DEATH CAME To James H. Eckels While He was Asleep.

NOTED FINANCIER

Who Won Fame as a Comptroller of the Currency Passes Away at His Home in Chicago.

Chicago, April 15.—James H. Eckels, president of the Commercial national bank and formerly comptroller of the currency, died at his home Sunday, of heart disease. The death of Mr. Eckels occurred apparently while he was asleep.

The fact that he was dead was discovered by Frank Evans, a butler, who entered Mr. Eckels' room to answer a telephone ring that had continued for some time. Evans found Mr. Eckels apparently asleep. The butler called to him and, getting no response, sought to arouse the banker, only to find that the former comptroller was dead. Members of the household were summoned and Dr. Frank S. Churchill was called. Dr. Churchill arrived within a short time and said that Mr. Eckels had been dead for several hours.

Mrs. Eckels and her daughter, Phoebe, 18 years old, are in Paris, where the latter is attending school. They have been abroad since last fall and planned to return to Chicago within a few weeks. They were at once communicated with by cable.

The death of Mr. Eckels came on the eve of a breakfast party which he had planned for a number of friends and relatives. Judge Landis, of the federal district court, Mrs. Landis, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Gary, of New York; George M. Eckels, a brother, and his wife and others were to have been guests. James A. Eckels, of Princeton, Ill., father of James H. Eckels, died recently.

On the day of the death of the elder Eckels, the son was a host of ex-President Grover Cleveland. The ex-president and Mr. Eckels were at breakfast when news of the father's death was received at the Eckels residence. Mr. Eckels was kept in ignorance of the fact for several hours until Mr. Cleveland had left the city.

It developed that the person who was trying to communicate with Mr. Eckels over the telephone, the ringing of which led to the discovery of the death, was George M. Eckels, a brother. A half an hour later the brother was called to his own telephone and informed of the death. A post-mortem examination was held and a statement was issued giving the cause of death as organic heart disease. The funeral will be held Tuesday at the Fourth Presbyterian church. The body will be placed in a vault until the return of Mrs. Eckels and daughter, when a private funeral will be held.

Mr. Eckels was a stockholder and was prominent in the management of several concerns, among them being the Hewitt Manufacturing Co., the Union Traction Co., the Featherstone Foundry and Machine Co., the Chicago Real Estate Trusts' association, the Allis-Chalmers Co., the American and British Securities Co., the Bankers' Trust of New York, and the First national bank of Baltimore.

James Herron Eckels was born at Princeton, Ill., November 22, 1858, and most of his life was spent in Illinois. He got his early education in the schools of Princeton. He graduated from the Albany, N. Y., law school in 1880. He practiced law at Ottawa, Ill., until appointed by President Cleveland to the post of comptroller of the currency in 1893. Mr. Eckels during the agitation of the currency question became prominent as an advocate of the gold standard. Always a democrat he became affiliated in 1896 with the gold standard Democrats. He retained the office of comptroller of the currency until the end of President Cleveland's term in 1897, when he became president of the Commercial national bank, of Chicago.

Engineer Acquitted of Manslaughter.
Laporte, Ind., April 15.—After being out one hour, a jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Frank Galmour, engineer of a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train who was charged with involuntary manslaughter in failing to give proper signals to the crew of a freight train at Woodville, Ind., causing a collision resulting in 61 deaths.

Miners Fell Down a Shaft.
Chihuahua, Mexico, April 15.—Four miners were killed and two others fatally injured Saturday in the galeña mine of the San Toy Mining Co. at Santa Enlita camp by the breaking of a cable, precipitating the men 110 feet down the shaft. The San Toy Mining Co. is owned by Pittsburgh capitalists, headed by Charles Schwab.

Jury in Bribery Case Disagreed.
Little Rock, Ark., April 15.—After being out for 36 hours in the case of ex-Senator Covington, charged with accepting a bribe, the jury reported a disagreement and was discharged. Covington was a former president of the state senate.

Sutton Is Ordered to Leave Paris.
Paris, April 15.—The police have issued an expulsion order under the prevention of gambling law against George Sutton, the American billiard player, who recently ran a billiard school here.

A Doubtful Bargain.
It cost a Baltimore man $47.75 to kiss another man's wife. As no picture of her has been printed it is impossible to say whether he got his money's worth or not.
